Helping Samoyeds, One Smile at A Time

Volume 6, Issue 2

Fall 2012

About Samoyed Rescue

-  Samoyed rescue is about picking up the pieces of dogs that are forgotten, abandoned, abused, neglected.
-  Rescue is complex as each dog has special needs from veterinary care to socialization skills.
-  Preparing Samoyeds for adoption takes time and money and more importantly intentional assessment, planning and training.
-  Rescue work gets best results when rescue teams work together with common purpose, expectations and standards.
-  Working together means our Samoyeds will get the best possible support and care.

So Much Has Been Happening

By Jim Becklund

First, I want to send a great big hello to all of you breed and rescue supporters out there. This is a catch up issue and for sure there has been a great deal of things going on in the rescue community and our affiliates. As you have seen in our Spring/Summer 2012 issue the number of Samoyeds in rescue have been pretty steady with the past years. The good news is, all rescues have been working hard at properly placing these dogs as quickly as they can. I really am impressed with how hard all of rescue has been working.

So many things in this issue. In case I haven't mentioned it before; Western Canada Samoyed Club Rescue has joined our affiliates. We are pleased to have a north of the border group with us. Also, I'm very proud to announce that Samoyed Rescue of Texas (SRT) is now part of our affiliates. They are a fairly new group, but with lots of experience doing rescue. I want to send a great big WELCOME to SRT and I know they will be a valuable asset to rescue. Look for their introductory article inside. You may also check them out on Facebook.

Speaking of Facebook; also a reminder that National Samoyed Rescue has a Facebook page with friends from all over. Come and check us out and see the latest news and views from the rescue world.

I want to remind you of some fundraisers we are still running to benefit Samoyeds in need. We still have plenty of limited edition (set of four) prints graciously donated by Annie Reid. These are stunning prints and several of them have been award winning. Annie is a super person and we thank her very much for all the effort she has put forth for rescue. There are still plenty of rescue pins available (see ad inside this issue) at $3.00 for rescues and $7.00 for individuals. This is a great way to say "I Support Rescue." We also have plenty of leash holders available. They come with a Samoyed figure (hand painted white or plain black) or a Paw Print design. You will find the order form within these pages. This is a great way to store your leashes by the door and they are proudly made in the USA.

The biggest news is NSR is getting ready to have an eBay auction coming at the end of October. This is very special to me because it helps the Sussie Memorial Fund. (See article page 4) Sussie was a foster dog I cared for many years ago. She was a special little girl who lived every day to the fullest and found happiness in everything. Unfortunately her sweet life was cut short because of

Become a Foster Family Today!

The primary purpose of a rescue organization is to give an animal a chance for a life. Many of these animals become a part of the system through no fault of their own. Some are by products of over breeding, some are strays and others are given up by their families because they can no longer care for them. These animals have so much to give and without the support of rescue organizations and foster families, many of these dogs will not be given that opportunity. Please won't you help? Become a foster family today. Contact any of our NSR rescue groups to give a Sammie hope.

THE SUSSIE MEMORIAL FUND

In loving Memory of Sussie, National Samoyed Rescue is proud to announce the formation of the National Sussie Memorial Fund as an on going fundraiser to benefit the needs of Regional Samoyed Rescues. With the cooperation and support of VIP Fibers <http://www.vipfibers.com>, a not-for-profit group of spinners who work directly with not-for-profit groups, we are beginning our efforts. All we need is clean Samoyed hair your Sammie no longer needs. If you have a desire to help in our efforts in memory of Sussie, please contact us at info@samoyedrescue.org for details. Help keep the memory of Sussie alive and at the same time benefit Samoyed's in need.

THE SUSSIE MEMORIAL FUND: A TRIBUTE TO SUSSIE

BORN: June 22, 1993

CROSSED OVER THE RAINBOW BRIDGE: May 20, 2002

We all in Rescue were saddened to report that our dearest little Sussie made her final journey across the Rainbow Bridge and is waiting for us to join her in play and fun.

Sussie was a special little girl with a special attitude that set her apart from many dogs in her condition. When she came in to the Rescue in November of 1999 she was suffering from severe hip dysplasia and was on pain and joint medication. She was in my foster care for five months and all I can say is she had the most positive attitude on life that I had ever seen. Always good-natured, always trying to do her best to do what she could do. She never complained about how she felt. It was as if she was determined to live each day to the fullest and make everyone around her happy.

In April of 2000, Sussie was x-rayed to find out the extent of her dysplasia and begin the hip surgery that would make her whole again. At the same time her front paw was also x-rayed because she had developed a limp. After extensive tests, it was diagnosed that she had bone cancer. We were devastated. The doctors gave her six months at the outside. It was decided that Sussie's quality of life was more important than having her leg amputated at the shoulder and, with no guarantees of success; all surgery was put on hold.

At the same time, two wonderful humans came and met Sussie and instantly fell in love with her. Even though they had recently lost their own "little girl" to cancer they became her new Forever Home and gave her all the love and care they could. Sussie was very happy to go to her new home where she was the sole focus of their love. She enjoyed long sessions of laying in the yard, getting groomed and short walks to the neighbors for "extra attention." Sussie improved daily under their care, but it was one thing that did a complete turn around in her life—a baby brother. A new Sammy puppy came to live with Sussie and her mom and dad and they instantly bonded. Tundra brought the best out in Sussie. It wasn't long before they were running and playing together and, of course, getting in to mischief. They were totally the best of buddies. Her once snuggles on the grass, became romps with Tundra. Her once short walks a few hundred feet to the neighbor's, became several blocks with no ill effects. Her pain medication was reduced. It was as if there was nothing wrong with her.

Several times her doctors commented that Sussie was a miracle girl. I attribute it more to her human mom, dad and her Sammy brother. She knew she had to be there for them.

I had the opportunity to spend the day with Sussie in August of 2001 and I can attest to the fact that she was happy, healthy and an absolutely adorable little girl.

We in the Rescue, in the meantime, had set up the Sussie Fund which was started by two of our club members as a fundraising project. Sussie was, after all, like a mascot to us. The Fund was set up to spin donated Samoyed hair in to yarn and knit stuffed animals or special orders to help as many dogs as we could. Thanks to two very caring and special Sammy lovers, the Sussie Fund has been a great success. The Sussie Fund will continue as the Sussie Memorial Fund in loving memory of this sweet little girl.

Sussie was so very special to everyone who met her and brought sunshine and happiness with her. I for one have lost a large part of my heart with Sussie's passing and I intend to retrieve it when Sussie and I meet at the Rainbow Bridge.

Farewell, sweet Sussie. We will all be united soon to play forever in the fields beyond the Rainbow Bridge. You are so missed. Jim

My Passion for Rescue

Steven Baker, Samoyed Rescue of Texas

After moving into our first house in 1993, the decision to get our first puppy came naturally. I spent months reading up on breed characteristics in order to get the right fit for our household. Everything pointed to a Samoyed, and after finding a breeder and purchasing our first puppy, Myatuk, we were hooked!

After 12 glorious years with our best friend, we were grief stricken with his loss. We immediately began to make phone calls to inquire about obtaining another puppy. Through this process, we were introduced to a local Samoyed Rescue and Samoyed Breed Club who introduced us to an awesome breeder (Galaxy Samoyeds in Abilene, Texas), who offered a wealth of information regarding the breed in the areas of health & training. We then became involved with the Breed Club which supported the Rescue Group by means of fundraising and awareness events. This was my first exposure to rescue.

Below: Cheyenne

When our 2nd puppy, Naku was 2 years old, we decided it was time for him to have a buddy. We adopted Kiska who was thought to be 1 year old from our local Samoyed Rescue Group.

Not long after we adopted Kiska, I was laid off work and had a lot of time on my hands. I started offering assistance to the Rescue Group in the form of transport, grooming, shelter visits, home checks and scouting various sources for Samoyeds in need of help. This is when I found Cheyenne. She was picked up in Houston with a severe case of sarcoptic mange, several intestinal parasites, and very close to death. Nobody knew what she was because she had very little fur (her initial nick names were "Fluffy" & "The Pink Armadillo" .... because of her lack of fur). But the fur on her head and neck was white, so they classified her as a Samoyed mix.

Through a desire and passion to help save Cheyenne, I started a fundraising campaign to raise money for her medical treatment and isolation boarding. I also promoted her story with other breed clubs in search for a perfect fur-ever home. This is how I came involved with Texas Alaskan Malamute Rescue. Soon afterwards, TAMR did a Courtesy Posting of Cheyenne on their website. They had a rescue named Collin posted on their website that looked exactly like Cheyenne! And after comparing characteristics, it is now believed that Cheyenne is part Samoyed and part Malamute (but don't tell her that – she thinks she is 100% Samoyed). When the time came for Cheyenne to be released from isolation she came to our house for fostering. She was slow to take to our other 2 Samoyeds but once she got used to them, they became fast friends. We were then initiated into the "failed foster club"!

A few months after Cheyenne came into our home, I had a severe knee injury that led to surgery. The physical to clear me for surgery revealed lung cancer. The year of 2010 was quite challenging, but also a blessing. My knee healed and I fought and won the battle against cancer. As many of you know (or know someone who has been through it), cancer is a life changing event. Your way of thinking changes and new goals are set. During this year, I found myself relating to very hard cases of rescue dogs and wanting more than anything for them to receive a chance at life. I wanted to battle the fight right alongside with them!

Although I had developed some great friends and gained much experience with the local Samoyed Rescue Group, I decided to break away and form my own rescue group, Samoyed Rescue of Texas. When you are a volunteer for another rescue group, you are limited to which dogs you can help and must respect the wishes of the rescues officers. I had a strong passion to help the dogs nobody else wanted and implement my own ideas into a rescue group. Thus, Samoyed Rescue of Texas was launched.

Since the formation of Samoyed Rescue of Texas 2 years ago, I have been able to help numerous Samo-

yeds. The most challenging case was Lucky (pictured right in new home) who was pulled from Lufkin, TX. This special boy had no tongue, was severely malnourished, and had a severe gum infection. Despite this limitation, Lucky was very happy and so hungry for human affection. He touched our hearts to the core. After months of fundraising and searching for a forever home with his handicap, and with the help of groups such as National Samoyed Rescue, Houston Eskie Rescue, and Texas Alaskan Malamute Rescue, Lucky was adopted by an extremely loving mom, Patti who lives in Ontario, Canada where the temperature is cooler, which helps with his disability. Lucky recently had to have all of his remaining teeth removed, and human nature is to feel sorry for Lucky.....but if you saw that huge Sammy Smile of his STILL shining through, you would realize he never missed a beat. In short, Lucky doesn't care about his tongue or teeth; he has the perfect Mom, and the perfect pack.....that's what matters to Lucky. I've never seen a happier Sammy. And that's the rewarding part of rescue; it's what keeps us going.

I would encourage anyone who has a passion for dogs to become involved with a rescue group or start your own group. The number of local, state wide and national Rescue Friends I have met in the last two years is incredible. There is always an endless supply of irresponsible dog owners in the world. Some, who abuse, mistreat, abandon, or just won't honor the lifelong commitment of caring for a dog. There are others who do not spay/neuter their dogs, which continually add to the numbers of homeless dogs. .

There are many ways to help.

Many have heard the famous quote attributed to Edmond Burke in the 18th century, "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing".

You are invited to chat with us on our Forums (open to the entire Samoyed Community), and get to know your regional NSR Affiliated Rescues.

If for any reason you want to contact the National Samoyed Rescue Board you may do so by email to:
nsrboard@samoyedrescue.org.

If you know of a Samoyed in need contact info@samoyedrescue.org. A staff of corresponding secretaries working on a two month rotation will transfer your concerns to the closest affiliated Rescue.

Remember that each and everyone of us are volunteering our “free” time to help the Samoyeds so please bear with us. We will get back to you as soon as we are able.
